

CARNEROS

WINE COMPANY

The Mahoneys began growing and producing Carneros area wines over a decade before the region received its official appellation recognition. Carneros Wine Company is the culmination of the Mahoney family's 45 years of devotion to the Carneros region and a vineyard-to-bottle approach to winemaking. Across the brands in the Carneros Wine Company portfolio, the unifying thread is a focus on varietal character, the unique signature of the vineyards' terroir, and an attention to detail that comes from decades of hard work, innovation, and dedication.

OUR BRANDS

Mahoney Vineyards

Grown exclusively in our certified sustainable estate vineyards in the Carneros Appellation, Mahoney Vineyard wines are the result of over four decades of farming this unique appellation. From clonal selection research to cover crop experimentation, few in the industry match our experience in the vineyards and the cellars. Mahoney wines are true representations of terroir, clonal selection, and varietal character that are perfectly balanced with a touch of French oak. As cofounders of the Carneros Appellation, the Mahoney family produces wines designed to showcase the highest tier of Carneros grown wines, while continuing to innovate and create the trends rather than follow them.

Carneros Ranch Wines

Wine styles come and go in this ever evolving industry, but quality winemaking should always remain a winery's focus. Our Winemaker, Ken foster, has designed Carneros Ranch wines to cater to those whose preferred wine style is big and bold, and who appreciate a more pronounced, yet integrated oak presence. We have combined our estate fruit with high quality fruit sourced from our Carneros neighbors to produce wines with density, structure, and balance while remaining true to their varietal and the heritage of the Carneros region.

Fleur de California

Since the first release in 1987, the Fleur wines have received a great deal of international praise and recognition. Fleur wines are crafted with minimal use of new oak, a focus on true varietal character, and as a statement of the terroir in which they are grown. Our goal is to create wines that accompany the foods they are paired with, rather than overpower them.

Redwood Empire Wines

The northern anchorage of the Golden Gate Bridge is the gateway to California's Redwood Empire. Nestled along these coastal hills, you'll find many secluded micro-climates that nurture their resident flora and fauna. These gentle, wind-swept hillsides also host many small family vineyards whose owners have worked for generations to perfect the fruit on their vines. The Redwood Empire wines pay homage to these small family vineyards by showcasing in the bottle, the unique characteristics that the fruit from their vineyards has to offer.